Member Institution Benefits, 2016-2017

Updated April 2017

THE RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITY OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

Since 1894, the American Academy in Rome has offered artists and scholars the unparalleled opportunity of time and space to live and work in a supportive community in Rome. Today we award approximately 30 Rome Prize Fellowships, of six months to two years duration following a national competition which attracts 800 to 1,000 applications annually. Joining the Rome Prize Fellows is a small number of senior artists and scholars, invited by the Academy Director to be Residents, each for a period of two to four months. Many of America's leading artists and scholars have passed through our gates as Fellows or Residents, and they count their time at the Academy as critical to their careers and work.

Each year the Academy's community also includes a number of Affiliated Fellows: artists and scholars who have been selected and are supported by organizations in cooperation with the Academy, including Member Institutions. Additionally the Academy hosts Visiting Artists and Scholars who, by application, rent living and work space at the Academy for a short period of time. The Academy's residential community of Fellows, Residents, Affiliated Fellows and Visiting Artists and Scholars numbers 125 individuals at any time.

MEMBER INSTITUTIONS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

The Academy welcomes Member Institutions from across the United States and countries around the world, including Italy, Australia, the Netherlands, Russia, and more. Membership enables institutions to award an Affiliated Fellowship at the Academy, for an additional fee and at mutually-agreed-upon dates. Other benefits extend opportunities to faculty members, staff, trustees and friends.

The cost to become a Member Institution in the American Academy in Rome is $1,000 per year.

AFFILIATED FELLOWSHIPS

On a regular basis and by prior agreement, Member Institutions may name an Affiliated Fellow to be in residence at the Academy for four weeks up to nine months. The Affiliated Fellow receives the following:

- Housing (a single room with private bath)
- The right to rent a study or studio, if one is available
- Meals on the same plan as those provided to Rome Prize Fellows and Residents, currently lunch six days a week, and dinner five days a week, except holidays

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

- The opportunity to attend concerts, conferences, exhibitions, lectures, readings, symposia, trips and tours
- Access to all Academy scholarly resources: Library, Photographic Archive, Antiquities Collection, and Archaeology Room
- The opportunity to engage with the Academy community by scheduling an informal talk or open studio to present their work

DEADLINES

The deadline for submitting intent to send an Affiliated Fellow for the 2017-2018 academic year is March 17. Criteria for selecting an Affiliated Fellow are at the discretion of the Member Institution.

The deadline for submitting the Fellow's name, contact information, and preferred residency dates is April 30.
