Friends of the American Academy in Rome support the dynamic activities of the American Academy in Rome, a leading center for independent research in the arts and humanities. For 125 years the Academy has offered some of the world's most gifted artists, architects, composers, and scholars the time and space to work in a collaborative and intellectually stimulating environment atop the Janiculum Hill.

Friends of the Academy take part in exclusive cultural and social events and have privileged access to the Academy, art and heritage sites, and private collections throughout Rome. Your support as a Friend ensures that the AAR will continue to thrive as a world-class nexus for ideas, creativity and innovation.
