Member Institution Benefits, Academic Year 2018-2019

THE RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITY OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

Since 1894, the American Academy in Rome has offered artists and scholars the unparalleled opportunity of time and space to live and work in a supportive community in Rome. Today we award approximately 30 Rome Prize Fellowships, of 5.5 months to two years duration following a national competition which attracts 800 to 1,000 applications annually. Joining the Rome Prize Fellows is a small number of senior artists and scholars, invited by the Academy Director to be Residents, each for a period of one to four months. Many of America's leading artists and scholars have passed through our gates as Fellows or Residents, and they count their time at the Academy as critical to their careers and work.

Each year the Academy's community also includes a number of Affiliated Fellows: artists and scholars who have been selected and are supported by organizations in cooperation with the Academy, including Member Institutions. Additionally the Academy hosts Visiting Artists and Scholars who, by application, rent living and work space at the Academy for a short period of time. The Academy's residential community of Fellows, Residents, Affiliated Fellows and Visiting Artists and Scholars numbers 125 individuals at any time.

MEMBER INSTITUTIONS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

The Academy welcomes Member Institutions from across the United States and countries around the world, including Italy, Australia, the Netherlands, Russia, and more. Membership enables institutions to award an Affiliated Fellowship at the Academy, for an additional fee and at mutually-agreed-upon dates. Other benefits extend opportunities to faculty members, staff, trustees and friends.

The cost to become a Member Institution in the American Academy in Rome is $1,000 per year.
