

JONES WINS ROME PRIZE COMPETITION

May 04 2012

Filed under: arts and humanities, honors and awards music, current students

share this

Jesse Jones, a doctoral candidate in the field of music, is one of 30 winners of the 116th annual Rome Prize Competition held by the American Academy in Rome. The winners' names were announced April 26 at the Janet & Arthur Ross Rome Prize Ceremony held in New York City.

The Rome Prize is awarded to approximately 30 individuals who represent the highest standard of excellence in the arts and humanities. Prize recipients are invited to Rome for six months to two years to immerse themselves in the academy community where they can expand their own professional, artistic or scholarly pursuits, drawing on the resources that Italy, Europe and the academy have to offer. Jones will be in residence at the academy for 11 months, writing orchestra music. Full Story

Stay connected with automatic updates